Name: _____

Date: _____ Class Period: _____

On August 4th 1944, the Frank family along with the friends they had sheltered was arrested by German Security Police. They had been hiding from the Nazis for over two years. Anne, the youngest daughter of Otto Frank was among those arrested. At 15, she had the same concerns that many your age have. What makes her remarkable is not that she was one of millions of Jews that experienced persecution at the hands of the Nazis, but that in spite of that persecution, she maintained the belief in the goodness of human kind. Like you, she had dreams for her future and for that of her family. Her voice lives on today through the words in the diary she left behind. In her diary, she confesses a desire to make a positive impact on the world. There is no doubt that she has done just that. Millions have read and have been inspired by her story. It is our hope that you will find your own inspiration in her story as well.

First, browse the links under "Nazi Rule." Read what you find interesting. Then view the "Timeline of Events" Make sure to view the photographs and videos for each historical section. You don't have to read all of the text, but it will give you more detailed information.
